

Linda J. Karr Biography

Linda Karr, PMP, is a project manager at Genentech in Pharma Technical Development and has over 20 years experience in the biotech industry. She is responsible for managing cross functional CMC development teams throughout the product development lifecycle (early development through approval) including resource planning, performance monitoring, financial tracking, and risk management. Previously she was an engineering project manager at Chiron/Novartis managing a variety of projects including process technology transfer & scale up and GMP manufacturing equipment & facilities.

Linda has a BS in Chemical Engineering from Northwestern University and an MBA from Saint Mary's College of CA. She is currently president of the San Francisco Chapter of International Society for Pharmaceutical Engineering (ISPE) and resides in Oakland, CA with her husband and Australian shepherd.