

JANE A. LAVINE

Jane has spent 20+ years in the insurance and risk management industry focusing on emerging life science companies. She has worked in three life science hot spots: Boston, San Diego and San Francisco. Jane has headed up a life science practice, working with companies throughout their life cycles, from start up through commercialization of products.

As a Client Executive for Life Science clients, Jane was responsible for consultative risk management analysis. She has focused on all types of risk a client may face, including operational, financial, strategic, and governance related issues. In her role, she was responsible for coordinating the delivery of all resources to the clients, supervising the client team, developing marketing strategies and solutions for a variety of business risks.

Jane holds a Masters degree in Finance along with CPCU, ARM and CFE designations.
